

Driving behaviour changes in safeguarding

Is your training programme making the difference it needs to?

Over 58,000 children were identified as needing protection from abuse in the UK in 2017.

23.6% of young people

aged 11 to 17 have experienced an adult they do not know in real life try to contact them via a site, app or game.

364,605 concerns of abuse

were raised during 2016-17.

109,145 individuals were the subject of a safeguarding enquiry under Section 42 of the Care Act, an increase of 6% on 2015-16.

Our credentials

Virtual College works across a huge range of safeguarding organisations including central and local government, schools, catering staff, charities and holiday clubs.

Our consultation process identifies learning challenges, creative ways to overcome these and engagement techniques for your learners, to drive behaviour change.

Collaborative consultancy

We will work with you to answer key questions, including:

What behaviour changes need to take place?

How will we know when the problem has been solved?

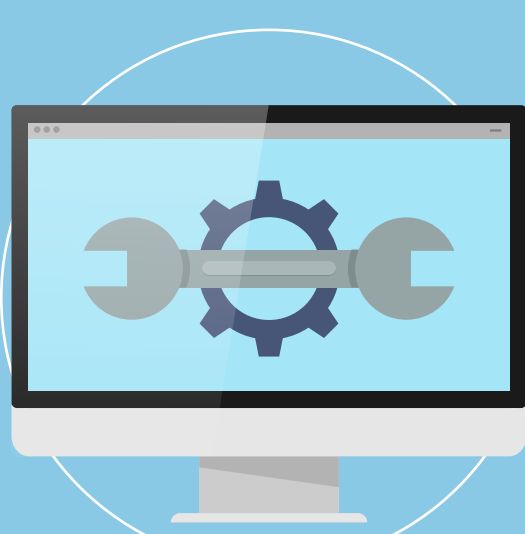

What information will help you meet the end goal?

What working with Virtual College can offer your organisation

Ready-to-go content, including refresher courses.

Bespoke content,

where we work with you to tailor a solution specifically for your needs.

Simulation training for role play and practising techniques.

What type of behaviour change could you see?

- ✓ Staff actively helping or supporting children or adults at risk.
- ✓ Finding out more about the topic.
- ✓ Helping or supporting members of staff in a different way.
- ✓ Raising concerns about a child or adult at risk.
- ✓ Trying to positively influence policy or procedures at their organisation.

If you want to learn more about how we can help drive behaviour change in your organisation,

Sign up to our Virtual College newsletter here:
<https://www.virtual-college.co.uk/safeguarding>

SOURCES

<https://www.nspcc.org.uk/services-and-resources/research-and-resources/statistics/>
<https://learning.nspcc.org.uk/media/1067/how-safe-are-our-children-2018.pdf>

VIRTUAL COLLEGE