How L&D Teams are Supporting their Businesses

The list could be endless, but we want to share some of the wonderful ways in which L&D teams are supporting their businesses during these trying COVID-19 times.
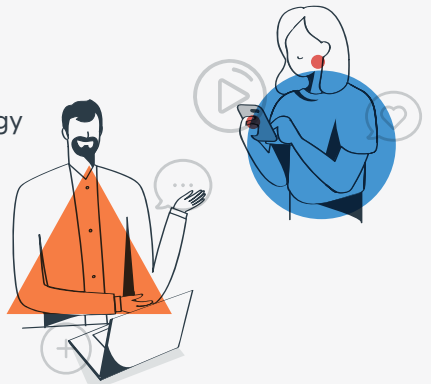

Supporting their staff by…

- Creating reassuring content to support wellbeing
- Sharing information in a clear way
- Providing training for furloughed staff
- Ensuring essential training still happens

Thinking outside the box by…

- Demonstrating the benefits of digital technology
- Developing digital content and solutions
- Actively upskilling and adapting skills
- Embracing new technologies

Proving they are training gurus by…

- Creating training to support 1000s of employees
- Converting traditional training into digital formats
- Demonstrating the potential of digital training
- Keeping their employees at the heart of it all

Virtual College

Inspiring learning for all